Commonwealth Human Rights Initiative

Working for the practical realisation of human rights in the countries of the Commonwealth

Commonwealth Human Rights Initiative

The Commonwealth Human Rights Initiative (CHRI) is an independent, non-partisan, international non-governmental organisation, mandated to ensure the practical realisation of human rights in the countries of the Commonwealth. In 1987, several Commonwealth professional associations founded CHRI. They believed that while the Commonwealth provided member countries a shared set of values and legal principles from which to work and provided a forum within which to promote human rights, there was little focus on the issues of human rights within the Commonwealth.

CHRI's objectives are to promote awareness of and adherence to the Commonwealth Harare Principles, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and other internationally recognised human rights instruments, as well as domestic instruments supporting human rights in Commonwealth Member States.

Through its reports and periodic investigations, CHRI continually draws attention to progress and setbacks to human rights in Commonwealth countries. In advocating for approaches and measures to prevent human rights abuses, CHRI addresses the Commonwealth Secretariat, Member Governments and civil society associations. Through its public education programmes, policy dialogues, comparative research, advocacy and networking, CHRI's approach throughout is to act as a catalyst around its priority issues.

The nature of CHRI's sponsoring organisations allows for a national presence and an international network.* These professionals can steer public policy by incorporating human rights norms into their own work and act as a conduit to disseminate human rights information, standards and practices. These groups also bring local knowledge, can access policy makers, highlight issues, and act in concert to promote human rights.

CHRI is based in New Delhi, India, and has offices in London, UK and Accra, Ghana.

THIRD WATCH REPORT ON RAJASTHAN'S PERIODIC REVIEW COMMITTEES

Concept: Sana Das & Sugandha Shankar

Research, Analysis, Writing: Sugandha Shankar

Editing: Sana Das

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This report is third in the series of watch reports tracking the functioning of Rajasthan's Periodic Review Committees or the Avadhik Samiksha Samitis. As always, this report is the outcome of the cooperative efforts of many. CHRI extends sincere thanks to the prison in-charge of all the central and district prisons of Rajasthan who provided information based on the right to information requests. We would like to extend special thanks to the entire team of Prison Reforms Programme, specially Ms. Sana Das, Coordinator, for editing the report and for her unflinching support throughout the creation of the report; Ms. Sugandha Shankar, Programme Officer, who played the key role in the research, design and writing of the report; Ms. Kakoli Jadala, Administrative Assistant, who helped in meticulously filing the right to information requests and following up. We acknowledge the contribution made by the interns of the Prison Reforms Programme – Dona Mathew and Vegadarshi – who assisted with data compilation and reviewing documents. We would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to Mr. Vivek Trivedi, Communications Officer, for taking time off his demanding schedule to design the cover and section dividers. Above all, we are grateful to Ms. Maja Daruwala, Director, CHRI, for guiding the team and making sure that commitments are met.

This publication is supported by grants from the Oak Foundation and the Open Society Foundations. CHRI is deeply appreciative of the help and support of all throughout the writing of this report.

WHAT'S THE IDEA OF THE REPORT

INTRODUCTION

This is the third watch report on Rajasthan's Periodic Review Committees (PRCs) by the Commonwealth Human Rights Initiative (CHRI). CHRI's first report on PRCs was published in 2011 which compiled data from June 2009 to June 2010 (2009-10). It was followed by the second report in June 2015 which provided information for eight months from September 2013 to April 2014 (2013-14). The present report provides an update since the second report, and is based largely on data gathered from May 2014 to April 2015 (2014-15). The report is divided into two main parts: Firstly, what is the mandate of the Rajasthan PRCs on paper? Secondly, how have these district-level committees performed on the ground since the second watch report and the advocacy done with critical stakeholders in the executive and judiciary? Broadly, the report aims to evaluate: Are they proving to be effective mechanisms of prison oversight?

In Rajasthan, Periodic Review Committees (PRCs) or Avadhik Samiksha Samitis are one of the prison oversight bodies which keeps a vigil on illegal and unnecessary detention in prisons. The performance of the PRCs has been tracked by CHRI through right to information requests since 2009-10. The information is collated and analysed vis-à-vis their mandate and guidelines provided by the High Court¹ and the prison department from time to time. This Watch Report is a comparative status of the PRCs as observed in 2013-2014 and progress made in 2014-2015. In 2013-2014 three districts, Ajmer, Baran and Bhilwara, failed to provide information while in 2014-2015 Durgapur, Sirohi and Bhilwara did not provide information. Due to delay in sending information on the part of Barmer, Sikar and Karauli, their data could not be taken up for analysis in this report. The comparative report tracks the changes across a set of five indicators – (i) whether monthly meetings were held; (ii) whether lists of undertrials were prepared for every meeting; (iii) whether all members came to all meetings; (iv) the kinds of cases reviewed as per the mandate; and (v) whether minutes were prepared for all meetings held.

The functioning of PRCs directly impacts the conditions of overcrowding² in prisons and complements the role of other oversight bodies. PRCs work on the premise that a person in prison is sent under the order of the court. Therefore, it is the duty of judiciary to oversee that no one is detained for more than the period required by law. This is precisely the mandate of this five-member district level committee, headed by the Chief Judicial Magistrate, since 1979. Unfortunately, neither the judiciary nor the executive realised its potential. CHRI, through its watch reports, has been able to demonstrate that in a span of five years with constant monitoring of the judiciary, executive and civil society, an earlier defunct mechanism in the state of Rajasthan is revived to work efficiently to the cause of access to justice for all.

S.436A of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (the Code) has been in focus since 2011 with the government and judiciary time and again emphasizing the need for institutionalising its implementation³. The Ministry of Home Affairs on 9 May 2011, issued an advisory suggesting that "a survey of all such cases covered under section 436 and 436A may be carried out every six months by the prison authorities and presented before the magistrate/ judges concerned in each district, by sending such lists to the District Legal Services Authorities (SLSAs)." Similarly, by another advisory⁴ in January 2013, states were asked to "constitute a Review Committee in every district with the District Judge as Chairman, and the District Magistrate and District SP as members to meet every three months and review the cases." The Union Home Minister has written to the Chief Ministers of all States/UTs on 3 September 2014 regarding use of section 436A of the Code to reduce over-

1 A state-level consultation was held on 1 September 2013, under the aegis of the Rajasthan High Court led by the then Chief Justice Amitava Roy. He urged the Chief Judicial Magistrates to hold these meetings with greater diligence.

2 As on 31 July 2015, the overall occupancy rate in the prisons of Rajasthan was 115%. Among the central prisons it was highest in Jaipur with 174%. In district prisons, it varied from 47% (Jaisalmer) to 522.5% (Rajsamand). In sub-jails like Bayana and Aklera, overcrowding was more than 1200%.

3 In Rajasthan, three circulars, dated 22 September 2014, 8 October 2014 and 16 October were issued by the Directorate of Prisons directing prisons to prepare a list of undertrials eligible under S. 436A and to send it to District Magistrate, Superintendent of Police and Chief Judicial Magistrate and accordingly to inform the Directorate.

4 Refer Annexure E, p 59, No. V-13013/70/2012-IS (VI), Ministry of Home Affairs (CS Division), GOI on 'Use of Section 436A of the Cr.P.C. to reduce overcrowding of prisons.'

crowding in jails of the country. An advisory dated 27 September 2014 has also been issued by the Government of India to the States/UTs on reckoning half-life of time spent in judicial custody of undertrial prisoners under Section 436A of the Code.

On 5 September 2014, the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in Writ Petition (Crl.) No. 310 of 2005 titled as 'Bhim Singh vs Union of India & Ors.' direct that, "jurisdictional Magistrate/Chief Judicial Magistrate/Sessions Judge shall hold one sitting in a week in each jail/prison for two months commencing from 1st October, 2014 for the purposes of effective implementation of 436A of the Code of Criminal Procedure....after complying with the procedure prescribed under Section 436A pass an appropriate order in jail itself for release of such under-trial prisoners who fulfill the requirement of Section 436A for their release immediately."

Most recently, the Supreme Court of India in its order⁵ dated 24 April 2015 directed the Member Secretary of the National Legal Services Authority (NALSA) in coordination with the State Legal Services Authority (SLSA) and the Ministry of Home Affairs to "urgently ensure that Undertrial Review Committee is established in every District, within one month." The court relied on the Ministry of Home Affairs advisory issued on 17 January 2013 for the purpose of implementation of S.436A of the Code. The composition of the Undertrial Review Committee, as provided by the advisory and the Supreme Court order, is "the District Judge, as Chairperson, the District Magistrate and the District Superintendent of Police as members." The periodicity of the meeting is fixed for every quarter.

Apart from ensuring implementation of S.436A of the Code, the court asked NALSA to issue directions to the SLSAs to urgently take up, through its panel lawyers, cases of prisoners who are unable to furnish bail and are still in custody for that reason, "... we find that there are a large number of such prisoners who are continuing in custody only because of their poverty. This is certainly not the spirit of the law and poverty cannot be a ground for incarcerating a person." Further, the court observed that, "There are a large number of compoundable offences for which persons are in custody."

With its insistence on the constitution of undertrial review committees in each district, the Supreme Court order moves the periodic review of undertrials from the realm of uncertainty and discretion to the realm of the mandatory for each and every state. However, a new concern emerges – what will be the fate of the undertrial review committees which existed much before the Supreme Court order? Having perhaps an expanded composition and mandate? In Rajasthan, PRCs were established way back in 1979. Due to the constant monitoring of the High Court and the executive since 2011 when CHRI drew their attention for the first time, the functioning of PRCs improved immensely. In fact since mid-2015 the Prison Department has begun to proactively disclose the information on meetings and number of cases taken up for review. The information shows that PRCs have become more regular than before from 26.3 per cent in 2009-10 to 53% in 2014-15. Complying with the Supreme Court order, a circular was issued by the Rajasthan State Legal Services Authority, dated 11 May 2015, to all the District Legal Services Authorities enclosing the directions issued by the National Legal Services Authority in this regard⁶. This essentially means while the PRCs are already functioning another committee has been constituted. We understand that the SLSA is duty bound to comply but a clarification in this regard from the apex court would have helped prevent duplication⁷. CHRI believes that it is of utmost importance that implementing authorities integrate some of the new specifications in mandate and composition of the committee directed by the Supreme Court which is already institutionalised and functional on the ground rather than replacing or duplicating it.

5 Refer Annexure D, p. 57, Suo Moto W.P. (Civil) No. 406 of 2013 titled 'Re: Inhuman Conditions prevailing in 1382 Prisons in India'

6 Refer Annexure F, p. 61, Rajasthan SLSA circular regarding W.P. (C) No. 406/2013 in the Supreme Court of India, Re – Inhuman conditions in 1382 prisons.

7 Based on the limited information received from right to information requests filed by CHRI after the Supreme Court order, it was found that at least in three districts Bharatpur, Dholpur and Jaisalmer Undertrial Review Committees have been established. This must be true for other districts.

FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

DISTRICT REPORT CARDS

FINDINGS & RECOMMENDATIONS

Rajasthan PRCs are on a trajectory of improvements as regards their periodicity, coordination between members and overall functioning. This is more so because of the efforts of the prison department in keeping a constant check on the regularity of PRC meetings in every central or district prison. On 28 February 2014⁸, a circular was issued by the Prison Department directing the prison in-charge to ensure that details of PRC meetings are sent by fax in the given proforma – date of meeting; reasons if meeting not held. Also, it was directed to send information by fax if any PRC meetings were held in the sub-jails under their jurisdiction. Such a direction was given for the first time though no evidence could be found for meetings held in the sub-jails. Four circulars⁹, dated 12 August 2014, 29 September 2014, 19 November 2014 and 12 December 2014, were issued from the office of Director General of Prisons to the prison in-charge of those prisons which did not send quarterly information on PRC meetings. It was further provided that deferment of sending information by prisons leads to delay in sending the report to the state government and, therefore, directed them to send the same at the earliest. The Directorate of Prisons sent a circular¹⁰, dated 16 October 2014, directing the prison in-charge of 9 prisons¹¹ to conduct PRC meetings regularly under the Chief Judicial Magistrate/Chief Metropolitan Magistrate and accordingly inform the Directorate.

¹¹ Bharatpur, Jaipur, Alwar, Dausa, Dhaulpur, Jhunjhunu, Sikar, Karali and Gangapurcity.

- As regards the regularity in meetings, from 26.3 per cent in 2009-10 it increased to 50.8 per cent in 2013-14. Now, it has risen to 53 per cent for May 2014 to April 2015 when 159 out of 300 mandated meetings were held in 27 districts in Rajasthan.
- It clearly shows that the regularity of meetings have increased in nine districts¹² with more than double the increase in Bundi, Dholpur, Hanumangarh, Jaisalmer and Nagaur. Bundi and Jaisalmer are exemplary in having conducted all monthly meetings – something of a record for this period (2014-15).
- The number has fallen in Banswara, Churu and Jodhpur over the three periods. Banswara and Ganganagar city had the worst performance with only one meeting held in the entire year (2014-15).

CHRI has recommended in all the three watch reports to ensure regularity and that the day/date of the meeting is pre-set. For example, PRC meeting will be scheduled on the first Saturday of every month. The prison in-charge must send a letter in this regard to the Chief Judicial Magistrate to fix a permanent day/date for the meeting or it must be mutually decided by all the members in the next meeting to be held.

PREPARATION OF UNDERTRIALS' LISTS BY THE PRISON

- The assessment of the lists of undertrials from the three time periods indicates that prisons have not been preparing lists according to the mandated four proformas¹³ or the proformas suggested by CHRI¹⁴ in its first report. In 2014-15, minutes of Jaipur and Sri Ganganagar PRCs mention about the four proformas but lists were not prepared according to them.
- Considering that currently prisons neither have all the relevant information nor the capacity to present a computed list of undertrials it was recommended in the second report that instead of using proformas the format of the lists should be standardised¹⁵. However, this has not been achieved till now.

It is recommended that two lists must be prepared –

- (i) List of Undertrials with a single case, to be prepared court-wise including the courts of Executive Magistrates; and
- (ii) List of Undertrials with multiple cases, to be prepared prisoner-wise. Both lists must cover all the undertrials detained in the prison on the date of preparation of lists.

¹² Alwar, Bikaner, Bundi, Dholpur, Hanumangarh, Jaisalmer, Jhalawar, Nagaur and Pali.

¹³ Proforma A: Undertrials standing trial in cases punishable with death, imprisonment for life or for a term of not less than 10 years, completed 90 days under custody, investigation not concluded [S.167(2)(a)(i)]

Proforma B: Undertrials standing trial in cases punishable with imprisonment of less than 10 years, completed 60 days, investigation not concluded [S.167(2)(ii) of the Code]

Proforma C: Undertrials under detention for a period more than the maximum term of sentence awardable to them in the case in which they are standing trial" [S.428 of the Code] – now S.436A

Proforma D: Non-criminal lunatics confined in prison for observation for more than thirty days [S.16 & 23 of Indian Lunacy Act, 1912] – Indian Lunacy Act, 1912 is now replaced by The Mental Health Act, 1987

¹⁴ I. Undertrials who are charged with offences punishable with death or life imprisonment whose trial is continuing over two years

II. Petty Offenders who are charged with offences punishable with imprisonment up to two years

III. Undertrials who have completed half or more than the maximum term of the prescribed punishment

IV. Undertrials whose age is contested / Juveniles

V. Mentally Ill Undertrials

¹⁵ Refer Annexure A, p. 52 CHRI suggested formats for preparing Lists of Undertrials

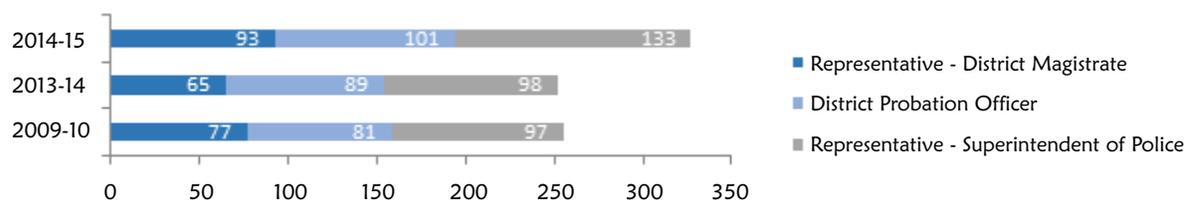

To overcome the critical information gap between courts and prisons, the following information must be provided by the court to the prison:

1. Date of arrest
2. Date of first production
3. Date of first remand
4. Offence, whether compoundable
5. Offence, whether bailable
6. Maximum prescribed imprisonment
7. Case reference number
8. Date when UTP eligible u/S.436
9. Date when UTP eligible u/S.167
10. Date when UTP eligible under S.436A (Half Term)
11. Date when UTP eligible under S.436A (Full Term)
12. Date of chargesheet
13. Date when bail was granted by court but undertrial unable to furnish surety
14. Lawyer, whether private or legal aid
15. Contact number of Lawyer

The above information could be provided by the court along with the warrant requiring production of an undertrial. It would assist the PRCs tremendously in identifying undertrials' eligibility to be released under the law. For example, the calculation of 60/90 days needs to be calculated from the date of first remand. It would also assist the PRCs in complying with the directions given by the Hon'ble Supreme Court for quick disposal of compoundable cases and cases of undertrials who were granted bail but are still detained due to their inability to furnish bail amount or surety.

ATTENDANCE OF MEMBERS & CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN THEM

- Out of 155 meetings for which minutes were provided, besides the CJM and the prison in-charge who had to be inevitably present, the most frequent attendance was by the office of the Superintendent of Police (133 meetings), followed by the Probation Department (101 meetings). The lowest attendance was from the District Magistrate's office (93 meetings).

- The number of districts in which all five mandated members came to all the meetings that were held has seen a low trend over the three periods.

- While overall regularity of PRCs has improved, the lack of full attendance in the meetings and the fall in full attendance over the years does obstruct case disposal and final recommendations. For example, in Bikaner, in 2014-15, in the case of an undertrial detained under a petty offence and S.151, 107, 116(3) as the representative of District Magistrate was absent for five consecutive meetings, the reasons for not releasing him on personal bond could not be clarified. It is a classic example to show how the liberty of the person gets affected by the absence of PRC members.
- Additionally, a representative from the Prosecution Department has attended the Committee meetings in 19 districts¹⁶. Meetings were attended by the Director, Additional Director, Deputy Director, Assistant Public Prosecutor or Public Prosecutor in these districts.
- From 2013 to 2015, regular correspondence was observed for 13 districts¹⁷. Though in Jhalawar, correspondence was irregular, a letter was sent to the Superintendent of Police to ensure production of the accused by arranging adequate number of guards. Similarly, in Kota, the Chief Judicial Magistrate conveyed to the representative of Superintendent of Police and prosecution department that during every meeting it would be helpful if the information regarding filing of chargesheet is sent to the prison.

- The prisons in-charge must make efforts to improve the correspondence with all members to ensure full attendance and speedier expediting of cases.
- The issue of non-attendance must be taken seriously by the PRC. If a member has missed any two meetings consecutively or has been frequently missing the meetings, seniors must be informed and request should be made to nominate a more diligent person to attend the meetings.

REVIEWS & RECOMMENDATIONS MADE BY THE COMMITTEES

The 1979 order directs the PRCs to mandatorily review five categories of cases of undertrials eligible under S.167 of the Code; S.428, which is now S.436A of the Code; S.436 of the Code. or petty cases; long detention in serious offences and; the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912, which is now the Mental Health Act, 2000.

The table below provides for a comparative examination of the various categories of cases undertaken for review by the PRC of each district:

- In 2014-15, Rajsamand is the only district which reviewed all the mandated cases and in 2013-14 it was Barmer. No district in 2009-10 fulfilled the criteria of reviewing all mandated cases.
- A comparative analysis of information of the periods 2013-14 and 2014-15 reveals a positive development. The scope of review with regard to including more categories of cases for consideration increased in Baran, Bikaner, Hanumangarh, Jhalawar, Jhunjhunu, Kota, Rajsamand, Sri Ganganagar and Udaipur. At the same time, it reduced in Alwar, Bharatpur, Churu, Jaisalmer, Jalore, Nagaur and Pali which missed out one or the other category of cases. Banswara and Jodhpur PRCs deliberated on the same set of cases during meetings in both the time periods.
- Only 8 districts¹⁸ have sparingly reviewed cases under Section 167, of the Code over the three periods and total recommendations made were merely 5 in 2013-14. In 2014-15, in Pali, though cases were not reviewed under S.167, it was stated by the Chief Judicial Magistrate that police department should give special attention to filing chargesheets within 60/90 days.
- In all, 7 districts (Bharatpur, Hanumangarh, Jaipur, Jaisalmer, Jodhpur, Nagaur and Pratapgarh) have been regular in checking unnecessary detention under S.436A. With the available numbers, total of 248 cases have been recommended for release – 86 in 2013-14 & 162 in 2014-15. While Dholpur reviewed cases under S.436A in 2013-14, unexpectedly it did not do so in 2014-15. The minutes fail to explicitly mention that this eligibility was taken into consideration by Pali, Sikar and Tonk¹⁹.
- Since the term “long detention” is not defined in the mandate, districts have considered different time frames as long detentions which ranges from ten days to six years for different kinds of cases. In total, 789 cases were recommended on the basis of long detention over all periods – most in 2009-10 (414 cases) followed by 2013-14 (199 cases) and 2014-15 (176 cases). Over time, PRCs have become more methodical by including different categories of cases for review. For instance, undertrials who are unable to furnish surety, those accused of multiple offences, illegally detained persons, and those who have completed one-third of the prescribed imprisonment, foreign nationals, those awaiting committal, and those in need of legal aid. Such cases did not find mention in 2009-10 which could be attributed to high numbers of cases of long detention, in the period, including some of the mentioned categories.
- Regarding, petty cases, since the term has not been defined in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, PRCs have interpreted it variously. While Churu defines petty cases as offences with prescribed imprisonment up to 6 months, Rajsamand considers offences up to 2 years of prescribed imprisonment. In 2014-15, 4 districts (Jaipur, Jalore, Rajsamand and Udaipur) considered cases of petty offences and long detention as separate categories but Bikaner, Churu and Hanumangarh considered petty cases along with long detention as one category. Another interesting review combination is that cases under S.107-110 and S.151 are considered as petty cases in 5 districts (Bikaner, Bundi, Chittorgarh, Pali and Sri Ganganagar). Further, in Jodhpur, Hanumangarh and Sri Ganganagar, petty cases are considered as bailable under S.436 of the Code. Interestingly, Tonk is the only district which considers all three categories – petty offence; S.107-110, S.151 and long detention – as one.
- Throughout the three periods, cases of undertrials with mental illness were considered for review by only two districts, Jodhpur and Nagaur. Churu included these cases in its review in 2009-10 and in 2013-14 but unfortunately did not continue in 2014-15. Similarly, Jaipur did not give due attention to these cases in 2013-14. Recently, Rajsamand and Sri Ganganagar took account of these cases in 2014-15.
- An interesting addition made by Dholpur PRC to include cases eligible under S. 437(6) of the Code.²⁰ In 2009-2010, Sikar and Sri Ganganagar recommended such cases but discontinued the practice in later years.

¹⁸ Alwar, Churu, Jodhpur, Karauli, Kota, Rajsamand, Sri Ganganagar & Sikar.

¹⁹ As regards Pali, Sikar and Tonk, the information from one of the three periods was not provided by these districts.

Considering the 1979 mandate and the changes introduced in the Code over the past few years, it is recommended that the PRCs must examine the cases of the following categories of undertrials, including foreign nationals, who:

- 1) become eligible to be released on bail under Section 167(2)(a)(i) of the Code where investigation is not completed in 90 days;
- 2) become eligible to be released on bail under Section 167(2)(a)(ii) of the Code where investigation is not completed in 60 days;
- 3) become eligible to be released on bail under Section 167(2) read with Section 36A of The Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985, where persons accused of section 19 or section 24 or section 27A or for offences involving commercial quantity and have completed 180 days in custody and chargesheet has not been filed in the case;
- 4) are declared indigent and become eligible to be released on personal bond under Section 436 of the Code;
- 5) are detained exceeding half or maximum period of prescribed imprisonment and become eligible to be released under Section 436A of the Code;
- 6) have been released on bail by the Court but have not been able to furnish sureties;
- 7) are charged with offences triable by Sessions Courts and are detained for more than 1.5 years;
- 8) are petty offenders, those who are accused of or charged of offences for which the prescribed imprisonment is up to 2 years;
- 9) are juvenile or are in the age-group of 18-21 years as they might actually be juvenile;
- 10) are of unsound mind and must be dealt under Chapter XXV of the Code;
- 11) are sick or infirm;
- 12) do not have a lawyer and are eligible for legal aid;
- 13) are detained under Chapter VII of the Code under Sections 107, 108, 109 and 151 as preventive detention cases;
- 14) are women offenders; and
- 15) have not been physically produced for the last two consecutive hearings due to lack of police escorts.

MINUTES OF MEETINGS

- In 2014-15, four districts (Bharatpur, Bundi, Tonk and Udaipur) failed to provide minutes of one meeting each.
- In 2014-15, except for Banswara, Churu and Dausa all prisons sent copy of all minutes to the Home Department. Hanumangarh, Jhunjhunu and Udaipur additionally sent the minutes to the Registrar General of the High Court, Jodhpur Bench. Jaipur PRC was the only one to send the minutes of its meetings to the State Human Rights Commission.
- In 2014-15, in Baran, minutes of one meeting provide that members discussed reform, welfare and legal aid issues especially in regard to prisoners who are drug addicts. Minutes of four districts (Bundi, Churu, Nagaur and Pali) provide that after most of the meetings members took round of the prison and interacted with prisoners. They also enquired about the food, sanitation and other facilities. Surprisingly, PRCs did not receive a single complaint in any of the districts. This perhaps raises questions about the quality of interaction between the members and prisoners.
- In Pali, one of the minutes provided that the Chief Judicial Magistrate addressed all the undertrials and informed them about the Mega Lok Adalat that was to take place from 14th July to 19th July 2014 and urged them to apply their case according to their eligibility.

- In 2014-15, minutes of Jaipur and Sri Ganganagar PRCs consistently mention that no undertrial is found eligible under the four proformas but lists were not prepared according to them.
- As part of minutes in Bikaner, Superintendent was directed after every meeting to take care of the safety and health issues of prisoners and to comply to the directions in this regard. Further, it was directed to note the age of the undertrials in the list.
- In Jodhpur and Rajsamand, the minutes of every meeting mention that Superintendent should send the date of next meeting in advance.
- In 2014-15, Sri Ganganagar was the only prison to follow CHRI's Minutes Style Guide²¹ as recommended in its 2011 Study to record minutes of every meeting.
- In 2014-15, in Udaipur, minutes of two meetings provide that members discussed the issue of court production. They observed that there are many cases in which only warrants are sent to Court leading to delay in their cases. PRC believed that undertrials with more than one case should have hearing in all the cases on the same day so that the accused did not have to be taken to the court several times.

All prisons must record detailed minutes of the meetings which must include:

- i. Details of the cases reviewed – undertrial's name, father's name, offence and period of detention – as done in 17 districts.
- ii. Legal provisions under which undertrials were considered eligible for release or reasons where cases are recommended to be expedited.
- iii. Recommendations made on cases and authorities to whom directions are given.
- iv. All other directions given for effective functioning of the Committee.
- v. If any undertrial person is met/interviewed in person by the Committee.

Minutes should be prepared during the review meeting and sent to the appropriate authorities within one week. Minutes must be sent by the prison to all the courts to whom the Committee has given directions regarding release or expediting of cases.

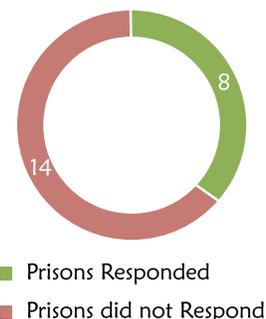

TRACKING RELEASES

- The biggest shortcoming of the functioning of PRCs is that the tracking of releases are not done by them. Except for Bikaner and Rajsamand, no PRC made any efforts to find out whether the recommendations made by them were transformed into releases of undertrials. In 13 PRCs²² a total number of 417 cases were found to be recommended for release more than once. However, their minutes do not indicate any action on the part of the PRC to seek reasons for why the person continues to be detained.
- In 2014-15, Bikaner was the only district to have some trace of tracking releases. One of the minutes provide that the Superintendent sent Compliance Report to the Chief Judicial Magistrate citing action taken on three cases after October meeting though not many details were provided.
- On the question of releases in the right to information request, Rajsamand responded that they have got good results on releases under the provisions of the Code but no further information was provided.

²¹ Refer Annexure B, p. 53, for CHRI Suggested Minutes Style Guide

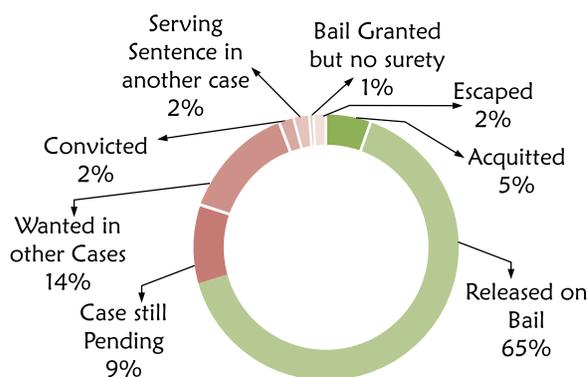

²² Ajmer, Bharatpur, Bundi, Dholpur, Hnamangarh, Jaisalmer, Jalore, Jhalawar, Jodhpur, Nagaur, Rajsamand, Sri Ganganagar and Udaipur.

- Out of the 22 prisons where follow-up letters were sent to track the current status of undertrials, only 8 replied – District Jail Bundi, District Jail Dholpur, District Jail Jaisalmer, District Jail Jalore, District Jail Jhunjhunu, District Jail Pali, District Jail Pratapgarh and Central Jail Sri Ganganagar.
- Out of the total 1228 undertrials whose cases were recommended for release by 22 PRCs²³, 416 were recommended more than once. So out of the total 812 undertrials, CHRI could only track 171 cases from 8 prisons who responded to our follow up letters. The details are given below in the table –

Undertrials Released		Undertrials NOT Released
Acquitted	Released on Bail	Case still pending	Wanted in other case/s	Convicted	Serving sentence in another case	Bail granted but couldn't furnish surety	Escaped
9	112	1	16	24	3	3	3
TOTAL - 121		TOTAL - 50

- An encouraging fact is that the majority of the undertrials (112) have been released on bail and 9 got acquitted.
- One of the reasons where undertrials were not released from prison is that they were wanted in other cases. There were 24 such undertrials out of which 4 had been granted bail in another case and 11 were transferred to other prisons for their trials in other cases.
- 3 undertrials got convicted and 3 had more than one case against them and have been serving sentence in another case. Also, 3 undertrials escaped and therefore, technically they were not released from prison.
- What is worrisome is the fact that despite PRCs recommendations 16 undertrials were not released and it was provided that their cases are still pending.

- The courts must inform the Committee about action taken by them on any of the reviewed cases and the reasons for delay, if any, before the next monthly meeting. In this regard, a letter must be sent by the CJM to all the courts informing them that regular compliance will be sought from them in cases recommended by the Committee.
- Committee members too must report to the Committee on their compliance actions.
- Based on the responses from the complying authorities, prisons must prepare the Action Taken Report to be presented to the Committee.

PERFORMANCE BASED RANKING OF DISTRICTS

The performance of each district is depicted in an interesting way with a scoring system against performance indicators purely based on the mandate of the PRCs. Each district earns a point for: (i) every monthly meeting held; (ii) every member who attended all meetings held; (iii) every meeting where the list of undertrials was prepared; (iv) each category of case recommended by mandate; (v) every meeting for which minutes were prepared and sent.

Regarding the lists of undertrials, it should be noted that in the second watch report the districts were evaluated by the preparation of lists according to the proformas. However, realising that certain critical information is not made available to the prisons, it was recommended that the lists of all undertrials must be prepared and the task of reviewing them under the mandated categories should be the collective responsibility of the PRC. Accordingly, for this report PRCs have been assessed by the preparation of the list of all undertrials. And that is one of the reasons for marked difference in score of most of the districts.

Maximum Points for each Performance Indicator could be 46: (i) No. of Meetings: 12; (ii) List of Undertrials prepared: 12 (iii) Attendance: 5; (iv) Mandated Type of Cases Recommended: 5; (v) Minutes of Meeting: 12.

HOW TO READ A DISTRICT REPORT CARD

- The infographic is divided in two parts to present the information on the PRC of a particular district.
- Purple colour signifies the information of the period from September 2013 to April 2014.
- Blue colour signifies the information of the period from May 2014-April 2015.

All the grey call out boxes provide the following comparative information of the two periods:

- Whether regular correspondence existed
- If any peculiarity is observed in the attendance of members
- If there is a change in the kinds of cases recommended from the last period – under the mandate and additional kinds of cases
- Whether minutes were sent to the Home Department or High Court.
- Any other interesting information

A graphical representation of the performance of PRC in the two periods.

Tick or cross represents whether the mandate was fulfilled by the PRC under each of the five indicators.

Purple numbers represent the score of the PRC under each of the five indicators. Hyphen '-' indicates that information was not provided. Zero '0' indicate that though the information was provided, it was Nil.

Total number of cases that were recommended in the last period.
Whether releases were tracked based on the recommendations made by the PRC.

Total comparative scores of the two periods.

Out of the total number of cases recommended by the PRC how many cases were recommended more than once.
Whether releases were tracked based on the recommendations made by the PRC.

Blue numbers represent the score of the PRC under each of the five indicators. Hyphen '-' indicates that information was not provided. Zero '0' indicate that though the information was provided, it was Nil.

- Minutes of 2014-15 further provide that no UTP was found eligible under Proformas A & B which is essentially S.167.
- Additional to the mandate cases of UTPs under S.107, 116(3), 151; who require legal aid; who were not produced due to shortage of police escorts; and juveniles were also reviewed.
- Considered cases under S.107, 116(3), 151 as bailable.

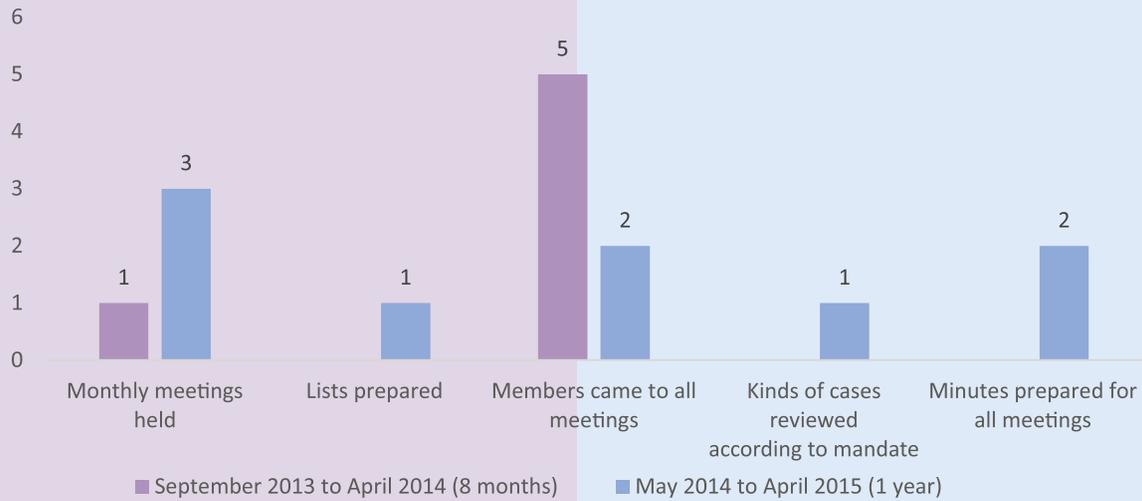

In June 2014 meeting, it was recommended to write letters to all courts asking them to write a note on the production warrant (Abhiraksha warrant) when the chargesheet is filed.

- Followed CHRI's Minutes Style Guide as recommended in its 2011 Study.
- In 2014-15, minutes were sent to the Home Department.
- Minutes of one of the meetings provide that it was earlier decided to hold the meeting on the 5th of every month.

RE-INHUMAN CONDITIONS IN 1382 PRISONS

Date : 24/04/2015 This petition was called on for hearing today.

CORAM :
HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE MADAN B. LOKUR
HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE UDAY UMESH LALIT

UPON hearing the counsel the Court made the following
O R D E R

We have perused the affidavit filed by the Ministry of Home Affairs on 23rd April, 2015 and have heard learned counsel.

The admitted position is 67% of all the prisoners in jails are under trial prisoners. This is an extremely high percentage and the number of such prisoners is said to be about 2,78,000 as on 31st December, 2013.

Keeping this in mind and the various suggestions that have been made in the affidavit, we are of the view that the following directions need to be issued:

1. A Prisoners Management System (a sort of Management Information System) has been in use in Tihar Jail for quite some time, as stated in the affidavit. The Ministry of Home Affairs should carefully study this application software and get back to us on the next date of hearing with any suggestions or modifications in this regard, so that the software can be improved and then deployed in other jails all over the country, if necessary.
2. We would like the assistance of the National Legal Services Authority (NALSA) in this matter of crucial importance concerning prisoners in the country. We direct the Member Secretary of NALSA to appoint a senior judicial officer as the nodal officer to assist us and deal with the issues that have arisen in this case.
3. For the purpose of implementation of Section 436A of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (for short "the Code"), the Ministry of Home Affairs has issued an Advisory on 17th January, 2013. One of the requirements of the Advisory is that an Under Trial Review Committee should be set up in every district. The composition of the Under Trial Review Committee is the District Judge, as Chairperson, the District Magistrate and the District Superintendent of Police as members.

The Member Secretary of NALSA will, in coordination with the State Legal Services Authority and the Ministry of Home Affairs, urgently ensure that such an Under Trial Review Committee is established in every District, within one month. The next meeting of each such Committee should be held on or about 30th June, 2015.

4. In the meeting to be held on or about 30th June, 2015, the Under Trial Review Committee should consider the cases of all under trial prisoners who are entitled to the benefit of Section 436A of the Code.

The Ministry of Home Affairs has indicated that in case of multiple offences having different periods of incarceration, a prisoner should be released after half the period of incarceration is undergone for the offence with the greater punishment. In our opinion, while this may be the requirement of Section 436A of the Code, it will be appropriate if in a case of multiple offences, a review is conducted after half the sentence of the lesser offence is completed by the under trial prisoner. It is not necessary or compulsory that an under trial prisoner must remain in custody for at least half the period of his maximum sentence only because the trial has not been completed in time.

5. The Bureau of Police Research and Development had circulated a Model Prison Manual in 2003, as stated in the affidavit. About 12 years have gone by and since then there has been a huge change in circumstances and availability of technology. We direct the Ministry of Home Affairs to ensure that the Bureau of Police Research and Development undertakes a review of the Model Prison Manual within a period of three months. We are told that a review has already commenced. We expect it to be completed within three months.
6. The Member Secretary of NALSA should issue directions to the State Legal Services Authorities to urgently take up cases of prisoners who are unable to furnish bail and are still in custody for that reason. From the figures that have been annexed to the affidavit filed by the Ministry, we find that there are a large number of such prisoners who are continuing in custody only because of their poverty. This is certainly not the spirit of the law and poverty cannot be a ground for incarcerating a person. As per the figures provided by the Ministry of Home Affairs, in the State of Uttar Pradesh, there are as many as 530 such persons. The State Legal Services Authorities should instruct the panel lawyers to urgently meet such prisoners, discuss the case with them and move appropriate applications before the appropriate court for release of such persons unless they are required in custody for some other purposes.
7. There are a large number of compoundable offences for which persons are in custody. No attempt seems to have been made to compound those offences and instead the alleged offender has been incarcerated. The State Legal Services Authorities are directed, through the Member Secretary of NALSA to urgently take up the issue with the panel lawyers so that wherever the offences can be compounded, immediate steps should be taken and wherever the offences cannot be compounded, efforts should be made expedite the disposal of those cases or at least efforts should be made to have the persons in custody released therefrom at the earliest.

A copy of this order be given immediately to the Member Secretary, NALSA for compliance.

List the matter on 7th August, 2015 for further directions and updating the progress made.

For the present, the presence of leaned counsel for the States and Union Territories is not necessary. Accordingly, their presence is dispensed with.

Sub: Use of Section 436A of the Cr.P.C to reduce overcrowding of prisons.

Sir/Ma'am,

The State Governments and Union Territories have been requested to adopt various measures related to reduction in overcrowding an advisory dated 9th May 2011¹ of the Ministry of Home Affairs. One of the initiatives taken by the Government of India has been the amendment of section 436 in the Cr.P.C. through the Criminal Procedure Code Amendment Act 2005 and the insertion of a new section 436A. The section 436A is reproduced below:

“436A. Maximum period for which an undertrial prisoner can be detained – Where a person has, during the period of investigation, inquiry or trial under this Code of an offence under any law (not being an offence for which the punishment of death has been specified as one of the punishments under that law) undergone detention for a period extending up to one-half of the maximum period of imprisonment specified for that offence under that law, he shall be released by the Court on his personal bond with or without sureties:

Provided that the Court may, after hearing the Public Prosecutor and for reasons to be recorded by it in writing, order the continued detention of such person for a period longer than one-half of the said period or release him on bail instead of the personal bond with or without sureties:

Provided further that no such person shall in any case be detained during the period of investigation, inquiry or trial for more than the maximum period of imprisonment provided for the said offence under that law.

Explanation. – In computing the period of detention under this section for granting bail, the period of detention passed due to delay in proceeding caused by the accused shall be excluded”.

Thus u/s 436A an under trial prisoner (UTP) has the right to seek bail on serving more than one half of the maximum possible sentence on their personal bond. No person can be detained in prison as an undertrial for a period exceeding the maximum possible sentence. This provision is, however, not applicable for those who are charged with offences punishable with the death sentence.

Although the percentage overcrowding in jails is steadily going down but even now in our prisons 67% of the inmates are undertrials as per 2011 data collected by NCRB.

Invariably it has been found that only the poor and indigent who have not been able to put up the surety are those who have continued to languish as under-trials for very long periods and that too for minor offences. The lack of adequate legal aid and a general lack of awareness about rights of arrestees are principal reasons for the continued detention of individuals accused of bailable offences, where bail is a matter of right and where an order of detention is supposed to be an aberration. Thus a disproportionate amount of our prison-space and resources for prison maintenance are being invested on UTPs which is not sustainable.

States/UTs may hence consider taking the following actions:

1. Constitute a Review Committee in every district with the District Judge as Chairman, and the District Magistrate and District SP as members to meet every three months and review the cases.
2. Jail Superintendent should conduct a survey of all cases where the UTPs have completed more than one-fourth of the maximum sentence. He should prepare a survey list and send the same to the District Legal Service Authority (DLSA) as well as the UT Review Committee.
3. Prison authorities may educate undertrial prisoners on their rights to bail.
4. Provide legal aid - may be provided through empanelled lawyers of DLSA to cases presented for release on bail and reduction of bail amount.
5. The list should be made available to the non-official visitors as well as District Magistrates/Judges who conduct periodic inspections of the jails.
6. Home Department may also develop management information system to ascertain the progress made jail-wise in this regard.

Action taken to implement the suggestions in all the jails may kindly be intimated within one month. The receipt of this letter may please be acknowledged.

Yours sincerely

Sub: W.P. (C) No. 406/2013 in the Supreme Court of India
Re - Inhuman conditions in 1382 prisons

Sir/Madam,

Please find enclosed herewith a copy of order dated 24/04/2015 of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the above noted matter.

2. The Hon'ble Supreme Court referring the Advisory dated 17/01/2013 of the Ministry of Home Affairs has directed to ensure that Under Trial Review Committee is established in every District within 1 month and the next meeting of each such Committee should be held on or about 30th June, 2015. As per the Advisory dated 17/01/2013, the Under Trial Review Committee consists of the District Judge, as Chairperson, the District Magistrate and the District Superintendent of Police as members.

3. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has further directed that the State Legal Services Authorities should urgently take up the cases of prisoners who are unable to furnish bail (due to poverty) and are still in custody for that reason. The State Legal Services Authorities should instruct the panel lawyers to urgently meet such prisoners, discuss the case with them and move appropriate applications before the appropriate court for release of such persons unless they are required in custody for some other purposes.

4. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has issued directions to the State Legal Services Authorities to urgently take up the issue with the panel lawyers so that wherever the offences can be compounded, immediate steps should be taken and wherever the offences cannot be compounded, efforts should be made to expedite the disposal of those cases or at least efforts should be made to have the persons in custody released therefrom at the earliest.

5. You are requested to take urgent steps for compliance of the directions issued by the Hon'ble Supreme Court and a compliance report furnishing the following information as on 20.05.2015 be submitted to NALSA by 31/05/2015:

- DS II
2.5.15
1. Whether Under Trial Review Committee has been established in each District? If not, reasons thereof and immediate constitution of these committees under intimation to the NALSA.
 2. Number of under trial prisoners who are entitled to the benefit of section 436 A of the Criminal Procedure Code.
 3. No. of under trial prisoners who have already been granted bail but not released and steps taken by the State Legal Services Authority in this regard.
 4. No. of under trial prisoners for the offences which are compoundable and steps taken by the panel advocates to get compounded those cases

With regards,

Yours sincerely,

(Rajesh Kumar Goel)

CHRI Programmes

CHRI's work is based on the belief that for human rights, genuine democracy and development to become a reality in people's lives, there must be high standards and functional mechanisms for accountability and participation within the Commonwealth and its member countries. CHRI furthers this belief through strategic initiatives and advocacy on human rights, access to justice and access to information. It does this through research, publications, workshops, information dissemination and advocacy.

Access to Justice

Police Reforms: In too many countries the police are seen as an oppressive instrument of state rather than as protectors of citizens' rights, leading to widespread rights violations and denial of justice. CHRI promotes systemic reform so that the police act as upholders of the rule of law rather than as instruments of the current regime. In India, CHRI's programme aims at mobilising public support for police reform. In South Asia, CHRI works to strengthen civil society engagement on police reforms. In East Africa and Ghana, CHRI is examining police accountability issues and political interference.

Prison Reforms: CHRI's work is focused on increasing transparency of a traditionally closed system and exposing malpractices. A major area is focussed on highlighting failures of the legal system that result in terrible overcrowding and unconscionably long pre-trial detention and prison over-stays, and engaging in interventions to ease this. Another area of concentration is aimed at reviving the prison oversight systems that have completely failed. We believe that attention to these areas will bring improvements to the administration of prisons as well as have a knock-on effect on the administration of justice overall.

Access to Information

CHRI is acknowledged as one of the main organisations working to promote access to information across the Commonwealth. It encourages countries to pass and implement effective right to information laws. We routinely assist in the development of legislation and have been particularly successful in promoting right to information in India, Bangladesh and Ghana where we are the Secretariat for the RTI civil society coalition. We regularly critique new bills and intervene to bring best practices into governments and civil society knowledge both in the time when laws are being formulated and when they are first being implemented. Our experience of working across even in hostile environments as well as culturally varied jurisdictions allows CHRI to bring valuable insights into countries seeking to evolve and implement new laws on right to information. In Ghana, for instance we have been promoting knowledge about the value of access to information which is guaranteed by law while at the same time pushing for introduction of an effective and progressive law. In Ghana as and when the access to information law comes into being we intend to build public knowledge in parallel with monitoring the law and using it in ways which indicate impact of the law on system accountability – most particularly in the area of policing and the working of the criminal justice system.

Strategic Initiatives Programme:

CHRI monitors member states' compliance with human rights obligations and advocates around human rights exigencies where such obligations are breached. CHRI strategically engages with regional and international bodies including the Commonwealth Ministerial Action Group, the UN and the African Commission for Human and People's Rights. Ongoing strategic initiatives include: Advocating for and monitoring the Commonwealth's reform; Reviewing Commonwealth countries' human rights promises at the UN Human Rights Council and engaging with its Universal Periodic Review; Advocating for the protection of human rights defenders and civil society space; and Monitoring the performance of National Human Rights Institutions in the Commonwealth while advocating for their strengthening.

This is a watch report, third in the series, assessing the functioning of a significant prison oversight mechanism, Rajasthan's Periodic Review Committees or Avadhik Samiksha Samitis. CHRI's tracking since 2010 has led to a more responsive executive and judiciary and ultimately has altered practices and improved efficiency of this mechanism aimed to check illegal and unnecessary detention.

Many district committees have performed exceptionally well and some are nascent in their rendering. Though notable changes have taken place in the working of these district-level committees some of the systemic bottlenecks still remain. While the fruits of these committees lie in the releases of undertrials under the law this has been the weakest link in the entire process. The potential of these committees have not been realized to the fullest that makes undertrials' 'ROAD TO RELEASE' long and rough.

Through this watch report CHRI urges the judiciary and executive to make efforts in streamlining these committees all across Rajasthan with special focus on tracking releases of undertrials which will eventually help institutionalize access to justice for all.
